

UPLAND HILLS FARM INVITES YOU TO A SPECIAL SUMMER SUNDAY EVENT
August 19, 2018 • 1:00-5:00 pm

DEMOCRACY DAY!

A TOWN HALL, FARM FAIR AFTERNOON

Bring your children and enjoy hayrides, animals, food trucks, and live music at this community event!

- Meet 3 candidates running for offices covering our area who represent a more empathetic understanding of all people. Take the opportunity to discuss issues with the candidates.
- Learn how your actions can make a positive change in our political climate.
- Visit information tables about voter registration and ballot proposals.
- Join discussion groups on some of the important issues of today.

ORGANIZERS of the event are local people from the Upland Hills community which includes Upland Hills Farm, Upland Hills School, the Upland Hills CSA community garden, and Lake Orion and Leonard Village residents with life-long Upland Hills connections.

OUR PURPOSE is to hold an event allowing people to meet local political candidates. We want to support candidates who have a more empathetic understanding of all people and will base their decision-making on research and data rather than ideology. Candidates who believe in real equality. Candidates who believe America is already great because it has these values and who wish to extend them through every level of local, state, national and international life and politics.

Elissa
Slotkin
for Congress

Elissa Slotkin is a third-generation Michigander who has spent her career in national service, serving three tours in Iraq alongside the military, and working as a national security expert for both Democratic and Republican administrations. She is running as a Democrat to challenge career politician Mike Bishop for the seat that includes Ingham, Livingston, and northern Oakland Counties.

Rosemary
BAYER
For State Senate

Rosemary Bayer, a native Michigander, is a technology engineer, entrepreneur, small business owner, wife and mom. As a problem solver with a life-long history of service to the community, she is not one to sit back and hope others will do the work needed to improve Michigan in education, work opportunities, infrastructure, environment and ethical governance. Instead, as the State Senator from District 12, she will dedicate herself to effecting positive statewide change.

MINDY DENNINGER
— FOR STATE REPRESENTATIVE —

Mindy Denninger is a candidate for State House of Representatives, District 46. She's an automotive engineer who wants to bring data-driven problem solving to the Michigan Legislature, as well as a mom who thinks compassion should be a factor in lawmaking decisions. As a longtime member of the local community, Mindy feels that the government should care for its people and protect our environment.
