

Stand up for public education!

Public schools are central to strengthening our democracy and protecting the common good

Action steps you can take to bolster public schools and stop privatization efforts in IL

- 1. Follow charter school proposals at your local school district and make your voice heard. Charter schools drain funds from district schools and have less oversight and accountability. Illinois applied for and got a grant in 2016 for 48 new charter schools, and charter operators are looking to set up shop around the state—though this grant comes with no operational dollars for new schools. Let your Board of Ed know that you oppose taking resources from district-run schools to open charters.
- 2. Help keep public dollars out of private and religious schools. Last summer our state legislature passed a tax credit scholarship, aka neovoucher, program. This was slipped into the school funding formula bill and diverts $75 million from public coffers to private schools. This program is supposed to sunset in five years but similar programs around the country have not gone away once they're introduced and have often grown. Let your state legislators know that this program needs to end and to oppose any possible expansions. Ask them to co-sponsor SB2236, a bill currently under consideration in the IL General Assembly that would require the state to fund public schools at the levels required under the new funding formula before any money could be diverted to private schools through the tax credit scholarship program.
- 3. Organize with public school supporters to increase revenue for public education. The state passed a new funding formula bill this summer but it only comes with $350M of the $6B needed to fund education adequately in our state. Changing the formula without adding revenue won't fix the problem of chronic underfunding of Illinois public schools. We need sustainable, progressive forms of revenue, like a graduated income tax, to ensure high-quality public ed for all Illinois children.
