Queensland Parliamentary Inquiry recommends legislating Voluntary Assisted Dying

On March 31st 2020 the Queensland Health, Communities, Disability Services and Domestic and Family Violence Prevention Committee Inquiry into aged care, end-of-life and palliative care and voluntary assisted dying released its report. It recommended that voluntary assisted dying (VAD) be legislated.

The Queensland Parliamentary Committee made 21 recommendations, including:

- The criteria of ‘an advanced and progressive terminal, chronic or neurodegenerative medical condition that cannot be alleviated in a manner acceptable to the person, and that the condition will cause death’ (Recommendation 4).
- That any VAD scheme in Queensland should not propose precise timeframes for a person’s anticipated date of death... due to the complex, subjective and unpredictable nature of the prognosis of terminal illness (Recommendation 5).
- The committee recommends that the Minister should consider including flexibility in any voluntary assisted dying scheme in Queensland for applicants in rural and remote areas of Queensland where a doctor or second doctor are not available, to permit a registered nurse who meets the training and other requirements to participate in the scheme to assess an applicant for voluntary assisted dying and to administer the voluntary assisted dying medication. (Recommendation 15).
- That any VAD scheme provides health practitioners who may have a conscientious objection to participating in VAD to opt not to participate, provided that the rights of the patients to access the scheme are also protected (Recommendation 17).

Christians Supporting Choice For Voluntary Assisted Dying

christiansforvad.org.au

We are Christians who believe that, as a demonstration of love and compassion, those with a terminal or hopeless illness should have the option of a pain-free, peaceful and dignified death with legal voluntary assisted dying / voluntary euthanasia. This is strongly supported by the majority of Australian Christians.

MBMC provides a voice for people with disability in the VE reform debate. MBMC represents the interests of people with disabilities who wish to exercise choice in all aspects of their life, including choice at the end of life, with the view that choice and control are a fundamental human right for everyone.

MBMC argues that people with disabilities know how it feels to lose personal autonomy through their ongoing fight for self-determination, independent living and disability rights.

MBMC believes that people with disabilities, who have struggled to control their own lives and bodies, must be allowed to maintain control and autonomy throughout their life, especially at its end.

Doctors for Assisted Dying Choice

drs4assisteddyingchoice.org

We are a national organisation of Australian medical practitioners, both current and retired, who are committed to having a legal choice of providing information and assistance to rational adults, who, for reasons of no realistic chance of cure or relief from intolerable symptoms, would like to gently end their lives.

Assistance may be by doctor provision of medication for the patient to consume, or by doctor-administration.

Lawyers for Death with Dignity acknowledges the need for people with profound suffering to have the legal choice for a medically assisted and dignified death.

The current law says suicide is not illegal, but assisting suicide is. People in a terminal state may have profound, unbearable suffering and be in the undignified position of being unable to end their life without assistance.

Advances in medicine have improved life expectancy, but South Australian law has not changed to reflect the often forgotten deterioration in quality of life that a longer life expectancy may bring.
