

Hi, my name is Emily Eadie and I will be representing Cunninghame North.

If I am elected my three main focuses will be-

1. Mental Health
2. LGBTQIA*
3. Learning Support

Mental Health affects young people everyday.

If I was elected I would break the stigma around Mental Health to the best of my ability. I would like to have more support in schools and colleges, and Mental Health first aid within schools and colleges.

The LGBTQIA* community is still to this day at a disadvantage and I would like to change that. I would have more support groups in place, promotion of safe spaces and more support in schools and colleges.

Learning support is still not at its best. Many schools tend to overlook students and just lower them in classes, I would like to change that. I would like to have more regular dyslexia tests within schools and more support when needed, may it be in class, exams or in general.

I fell I would be the best candidate to be elected as I am very good at saying what needs to be said and getting me point across. I am just a regular everyday young person who wants to make a difference.

If I am elected, during my two year term as MSYP I will represent North Ayrshire to the best of my ability and represent the young people within North Ayrshire also to the best of my ability and that is a promise I am willing to keep.
