Evaluation: Green (Appears to support Conservative Values)

Please see my answers below. Thank you for taking the time to compile these and publish our responses.

1. Yes. There is a tremendous amount of expertise and resources available through our community non-profits. They should be recognized as partners.
2. Elected leadership should work to protect individual property rights at the highest level possible.
3. Recognize the economic cost each regulation has on the ability of a business to keep and grow jobs. Limit regulations and trust businesses to operate ethically. It is in the best interest of a business to take care of the customer and their employees. We inhibit growth and creativity when we dictate how a business should operate.
4. A free market is best for business growth and job creation. It allows for businesses to serve their customers and provide product and service at a market determined price.
5. If we want to change behavior through policy, it should be done in a way that protects individual liberty - and not a "government knows best" approach.
6. We need to support non-profits who work to heal families and keep them together.
7. The parents and other capable family members are the primary responsible party, with the State secondary. Every life deserves opportunity, and if a child is in our state, we have a responsibility to support them.
8. "Original Intent" is how I interpret the US Constitution. As an elected official, my job will be to uphold the Constitution, take care that we draft legislation with Constitutional principles in mind, and not infringe on individual rights.

9. I have read it, and will do so.

Thank you,

Cindy
