

PSWs – WHAT DO YOU NEED TO PROVIDE QUALITY CARE TO THE PEOPLE WHO NEED IT?

With Canada's aging population, we need you like never before. Tell us what barriers you face to doing the best possible job for your clients and what you would see changed.

One in four. By 2036, that will be the ratio of seniors in the general Canadian population. Today it is only about one in six. That doesn't sound like much, but it is on an already "pushed-to-the-limits" healthcare infrastructure.

As governments move to encourage homecare wherever possible, it is imperative to ensure there is enough care to go around now, and in the future. As the union that championed for the wage increase for Ontario's Personal Support Workers (PSWs) last year, we continue to come to the table with solutions for our seniors and PSWs. It's simple: we all deserve care. This need is only growing, so that's why we are calling all workers of homecare to rise with us.

If you believe it is your right

- As a PSW to be paid fairly for the demanding, skilled work you do
- As an Ontarian to have the homecare you or your loved-ones need
- As an aging Ontarian to expect funding and care will be available when you need it

Get involved and make a difference:

1. Homecare PSWs: Send a letter to your MPP, share your story with us, share this with your friends, family and colleagues
2. Patients and Families: Send a letter to your MPP and talk to us

YOU CAN RISE FOR HOMECARE
BY ENGAGING ONLINE
WWW.SEIUHEALTHCARE.CA/RISE
  #RiseForHomecare

 SEIU Healthcare
CANADA'S HEALTHCARE UNION