

Update on Redevelopment of the Seminary Property

North Coast Land Holdings (NCLH) and Strawberry community representatives have formed a working group to engage in dialogue regarding the redevelopment of the 130-acre Strawberry property formerly owned by the Golden Gate Baptist Theological Seminary. The formation of this new working group comes in direct response to the request made by District 3 County Supervisor Kate Sears that the property owners, NCLH, and Strawberry constituents, engage in an open conversation about the future of the property. We are calling this process Seminary Tomorrow.

Seminary Tomorrow consists of representatives from NCLH and the following Strawberry residents, who have been active participants in the process to date:

- Josh Andresen – Josh lives on Ricardo Road and is raising a family in Strawberry. He is an engineer and is active in the Strawberry Community Association.
- Julie Brown – Julie lives on Ricardo Road, is a designer, and is raising a family in Strawberry. She also serves on the Strawberry Design Review Board.
- Fran Corcoran – Fran lives on Great Circle Drive, works in school administration, and is a 40-year resident of Strawberry. She served on the Strawberry Recreation District Board for 12 years and was a member of the 1984 Citizens' Advisory Committee that created the current Strawberry Community Plan.
- Bill Foss – Bill lives at De Silva Island, is a retired attorney, and serves on the De Silva Island HOA board.
- Bob Hendry – Bob lives on Seminary Cove Drive, is a retired executive of General Motors, and serves on the Seminary Cove HOA board.
- David Leimsieder – David lives on Richardson Drive and is raising a family in Strawberry. He works in finance and is active with the Strawberry Community Association.
- Josh Sale – Josh lives on Chapel Drive, owns a small software consulting business, and is a founder of Seminary Neighborhood Association.
- Barry Shafran – Barry lives on Willis Drive and is a retired executive of Levi Strauss. He is a founder of the Seminary Neighborhood Association.

Seminary Tomorrow will be professionally facilitated by Marie Rainwater of Rainwater & Associates, LLC. Progress and findings will be reported to the community on a regular basis through emails, Nextdoor postings, and community meetings. For more information please contact:
