Latest Sharice Davids Television Ad Highlights the Opportunities That Lead Her From Leavenworth to Washington D.C.

KANSAS CITY, Kan. - Sharice Davids, Democratic nominee in the Kansas Third Congressional District, has released her a new television ad.

The 30-second spot, entitled “Opportunity,” focuses on Davids’ path from Johnson County Community College to the Obama White House and the opportunities that made her path possible.

It’s those opportunities - like strong public schools and affordable healthcare - that Davids’ will fight to protect and expand as a member of Congress.

“I have been able to achieve success in my life because of hard work and the opportunities I have had in Kansas’ Third District,” Davids said. “In Congress, like I’ve done throughout the rest of my career, I’ll work to protect and expand those opportunities for everyone. I will always put Kansans first - because we all deserve a shot to achieve our own vision of success.”

About Sharice Davids: A proud Kansan, Sharice Davids was raised by a single mom. After graduating from Johnson County Community College, she earned an Ivy League law degree from Cornell. She went on to work for President Barack Obama as a White House Fellow.

Sharice has focused her career on bringing equality to underserved communities and providing more opportunities to help middle-class families get ahead. She’ll work to expand access to affordable health care, strengthen our public schools, make college more affordable and invest in our infrastructure to create more good-paying jobs.
