

Greg is a retired Air Force Colonel, having served for 23 years in the military as an intelligence officer in various assignments, mostly overseas. Since 2002 Greg has served in a variety of senior executive officer positions for defense contracting companies. Greg opened Rhino's Sports and Spirits in 2007, fulfilling a lifelong dream of owning a sports bar. Greg lost his wife Patricia to breast cancer in 2003, after a courageous two and a half year battle with the disease. Through a mutual friend, Greg was introduced to Nancy Saltzman, a widow and two time breast cancer survivor, and they married in August 2014. Greg spends his free time golfing and hiking in the mountains. He has a son, Jordan, that graduated from Elon University, North Carolina in May 2015. Greg and Nancy live Colorado Springs, CO, with their two dogs, Macy and Nacho.

Nancy Saltzman is an Indiana Hoosier who now calls Colorado her home. She is found most mornings hiking in the foothills with her husband of 6 months, and her two dogs, Nacho and Macy. Saltzman retired after 32 years in public education and now enjoys reading, taking pictures, having lunch with friends, and laughing. Dr. Saltzman holds a Ph.D. in education, was recognized as Colorado's National Distinguished Principal and was awarded the Cancer Society's Sword of Hope during her career as an elementary school principal. She is the author of the best selling memoir, Radical Survivor.
