

Denali Ranasinghe – Hackney

I am Denali Ranasinghe from Hackney. I'm relatively a new member to Liberal Democrats. Since joining I have stood as a candidate for Hoxton West in the last by election and have taken part in many of the local, national and international campaigns.

I believe in a society in which people can genuinely exercise freedom and fairness so that everyone, regardless of background, is free from conformity and social hardship.

I am currently studying a master's in Social Policy at London School of Economics in Social Policy to continue my personal development in this field.

I would like the opportunity to be involved in the Social Liberal Forum to contribute towards progressive liberal values and to work closely with social liberals from all political parties. I also represent Lib Dems internationally as a Committee member of Liberal International Human Rights Committee and at the International Federation of Liberal Youth (IFLRY).

In the current volatile political climate, I believe we need to more than ever strengthen and promote our core Social Liberal values.
