Eagle Ford Excellence Award for Community and Social Investment

The oil and gas industry's commitment to the communities in which we operate is steadfast and strong. STEER and its members value organizations that focus on building partnerships to enhance the economic benefits of the oil and gas industry throughout the region.

The Eagle Ford Excellence Award for Community and Social Investment will recognize leading companies and contractors in the Eagle Ford area that are working with communities to make a positive impact.

Companies and contractors working in or with the oil and gas industry in the Eagle Ford Shale region that demonstrate active programs for community and social investment are eligible to enter this category.

Successful entries will demonstrate elements of, but are not limited to, the following:

- Corporate community engagement showing benefit to the social fabric of the local area
- Providing a benefit to deserving individuals or groups
- Positive impact on the company's reputation in the communities in which it works
- A measurable and positive impact on the community
- Number of company volunteers and/or volunteer hours dedicated to the community

Entry Guidelines:

Please provide a detailed description, not to exceed 500 words, of your company's activities and performance in any or all of the following areas: direct community engagement showing real benefit to the community; providing benefit to deserving individuals or groups; benefit to the company's reputation in the communities in which it works; measurable impacts and number of company volunteers and/or volunteer hours dedicated to communities where your company operates.

Third-party judges will examine the project description and evidence relative to the above criteria. Entries for the Eagle Ford Excellence Award for Community and Social Investment should be accompanied by supporting documentation such as testimonials, project descriptions, case studies, photographs and published articles. Supporting materials should be collated, attached and submitted via mail or email along with the entry form.
