

REEF DISASTERS? COMMBANK CAN.

Many banks have ruled out lending to new coal export projects in the Great Barrier Reef, which would increase the risk of shipping accidents.

But at CommBank, not only have they failed to rule out helping to expand coal exports in the Reef, they're already in business with Adani, who are proposing the largest export coal mine in Australia. While other banks can't do dirty coal deals on moral grounds, CommBank can.
