

National Campaign Policy on Surfing Reserves

Surfrider Foundation endorses the concept of a national system of surfing reserves at significant surfing locations. Surfing reserves should not be purely symbolic but should be developed in conjunction with planning and land management agencies in order to formally protect the physical characteristics contributing to a breaks notable surf quality, the ecological integrity of the marine, littoral and terrestrial environment, and the social and cultural traditions of the local surfing community.