

Breakout Summary:

Hopefully, during the 2-day Summit participants generated ideas for their community or workplace and were now seeking resources to help move their ideas forward. In this session, Ty Olson introduced representatives from organizations from across the region offering resources for ways for residents to get involved.

Presenters:

- Tyler Olson, Program Manager, Conflict Resolution and Peace Studies, Tri-C
- JP Gaulty, Program Manager, Community Innovation Network, CASE
- Chris Alvarado, Executive Director, Slavic Village Development
- Erika Brown, Community Network Manager, Neighborhood Connections
- Rachel Ciomcia, Executive Vice President, Cleveland Leadership Center
- Jeremy Taylor, Director of Community Involvement, Detroit Shoreway Community Development Organization
