Neighborhoods are the building blocks of a great urban area. They are the real places of daily life — places where people interact face to face, where transactions are made, and where a sense of identity and history is created. By fostering the development of a vibrant public realm for all to share neighborhoods can make affordable, low-consumption lifestyles more convenient and attractive. Learn how to build vital neighborhoods below and share your success story here!

Be Resilient. Keep and maintain an emergency supply kit in your home, have an emergency preparedness plan and check on vulnerable neighbors during high heat days or other emergencies.

Get to know your neighbors to build community cohesion.

Support the Cleveland Climate Action Fund or propose a neighborhood climate action project.

Join a block club and volunteer at an association in your neighborhood that improves quality of life

Learn how your neighborhood can take Climate Action.

Join the Vital Neighborhoods Working Group and support the cultivation of sustainable neighborhoods of choice. Please contact Cathi Lehn for more information at clehn@city.cleveland.oh.us.

www.SustainableCleveland.org