

Don't Let Hoffa Take Away Your Right to Vote

Hoffa is headed to court to try to end fair elections for International Union officers. Take action now to save your voting rights.

Teamster President James Hoffa wants to end fair elections in the Teamsters Union and he is headed to federal court to try to take away members' voting rights.

If Hoffa's legal bid is successful, he will hand-pick his own Election Officer and rewrite the election rules to block opposition candidates from getting on the ballot.

All Teamsters, whatever their views, have the right to vote in fair elections.

But Hoffa has started legal proceedings to try to end the Consent Order, the court-approved agreement that guarantees our right to vote for International Union officers in independently-supervised elections with fair rules.

Judge Loretta Preska will make the final decision on the future of the Consent Order and fair International Union elections.

She needs to hear from Teamster members urging her to protect union democracy.
