

“What is Partial Birth Abortion?” advertisement appeared in the Knoxville News Sentinel each month in 2001 and 2002 to help gain support for a ban on this type of abortion.

What is Partial-Birth Abortion?

Using ultrasound as a guide, the abortionist takes hold of the baby's legs with forceps.

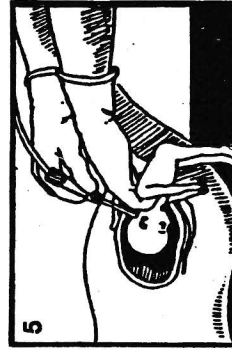

The baby is turned if necessary, and the legs are pulled out into the air.

The abortionist delivers the baby's entire body alive, except for the head, which is now through the cervix, lying in the birth canal.

The abortionist then jams scissors into the skull of the living baby, and opens them to enlarge the hole making room for a suction catheter.

The scissors are removed and a suction catheter is put in its place for the purpose of suctioning out the brains; killing the child and collapsing the skull. The dead baby is now able to be removed. The abortionist then delivers the head.
