

Studying creative writing

Edited by Sharon Norris

STUDYING CREATIVE WRITING

Edited by Sharon Norris

2013. 202pp. ISBNs: 978-1-907076-42-8 (hardcover);
978-1-907076-39-8 (ePub); 978-1-907076-40-4 (PDF).

‘Each contributing writer has an engaging, accessible voice...
a marvellous tool for all students of writing’ – Professor Jen Webb, University of Canberra.

Studying creative writing provides a practical, confidence-inspiring guide for current and prospective students of creative writing in higher education.

Chapters on: what to expect of a creative writing degree,
by Sharon Norris; the skills you’ll need to study creative writing, by Ally Chisholm; the importance of reading to your writing, by Shawn Shiflett; pre-writing, by Lorna Fergusson; workshops, by Jennifer Young; online learning,
by Elizabeth Reeder; editing and redrafting, by Spencer Jordan; reading your work aloud, by Nabila Jameel; critical reflections, by Sharon Norris; assessment, by Helen Kidd;
what happens after graduation? by Sally O’Reilly.

Studying creative writing is the fourth title in the Creative Writing Studies series.

Creative writing: writers on writing

Edited by Amal Chatterjee

CREATIVE WRITING WRITERS ON WRITING

Edited by
Amal Chatterjee

2013. 216 pp. ISBNs: 978-1-907076-11-4 (hardcover);
978-1-907076-14-5 (ePub); 978-1-907076-33-6 (PDF).

This book presents original work by eight well-known and emerging writers of prose and poetry, accompanied by reflective essays in which the authors explore the creative process behind the work. While providing insights into the works themselves and into literary craft, these essays show
– to students in particular – different possible ways
of discussing one’s own writing.

‘...diverse work of a very high standard...each author offers a model for the kind of reflective material which is required of degrees, but, hopefully more than that, is a means to a greater understanding of a writer’s own interests, ambitions and achievements’ – Paul Wright, Writing in Education.

Contributors: Amal Chatterjee, Colm Breathnach, Fred
D’Aguiar, Jane Draycott, Philip Gross, Kathryn Heyman, Sabyn Javeri, and Emily Raboteau.

Rethinking creative writing

Stephanie Vanderslice

RETHINKING CREATIVE WRITING

Stephanie Vanderslice

2011. 156 pp. ISBNs: 978-1-907076-13-8 (hardcover);
978-1-907076-31-2 (softback); 978-1-907076-10-7 (ePub);
978-1-907076-18-3 (PDF).

In this survey of Creative Writing as an academic discipline,
and using case studies of best practice from three continents, Stephanie Vanderslice provides a provocative critique of existing practice.

‘This is a brave, serious, passionate and entertaining book’
– Dr Steve May, Bath Spa University.

‘This thoroughly researched, beautifully written, and altogether important book’ – Erika Dreifus, Practicing writing blog.

Creative Writing Studies

The Creative Writing Studies series is published by The Professional and Higher Partnership:
partners@professionalandhigher.com.

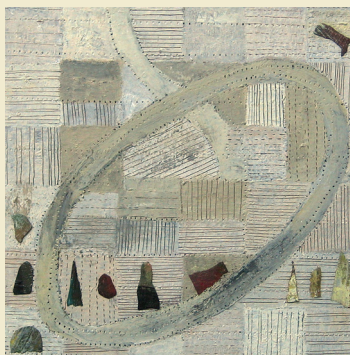

For more information on the series see <http://pandhp.com>.
All our books can also be explored via Amazon’s ‘search inside’ function.

More titles on page 2 →

NEW IN PAPERBACK

*Teaching creative writing:
practical approaches*

Edited by Elaine Walker

TEACHING
CREATIVE WRITING

Edited by Elaine Walker

2012. 244 pp. ISBNs: 978-1-907076-12-1 (hardcover);
978-1-907076-47-3 (softback); 978-1-907076-15-2 (ePub);
978-1-907076-48-0 (PDF).

‘This compilation of writing exercises from creative writing teachers all over the world...offers a practical resource for teachers who are just starting out...[and] for experienced teachers who suspect that their own methods have become repetitive...it emphasises and models the care required to structure classes in an engaging and purposeful manner’ – Helen Gildfind, TEXT Journal of Writing and Writing Courses.

Aimed at enabling those who teach creative writing to review, borrow and adapt ideas, Teaching creative writing offers 50 approaches developed by practitioners in the community of writers in higher education.

Are you a member of AAWP?

The Australasian Association of Writing Programs provides special offers on books in the Creative Writing Studies series. Visit AAWP’s website for details:
<http://aawp.org.au/publications-aawp>.

NEW LIMITED
EDITION TITLE

Caves of making
Philip Gross

caves of making
philip gross

2013. 64pp. ISBN: 978-1-907076-74-9 (hardcover).

Caves of making offers the textual equivalent of a creative festival, bringing together the work of three remarkable creatives. Philip Gross provides a poem, ‘Cave diver in the deep reach’, and an extended commentary on how the poem was written. These are followed by contributions from typographer Jeremy Tankard, whose unique ‘Redisturbed’ typeface is used throughout the book, and artist Rika Newcombe, creator of the works reproduced on the covers of the Creative Writing Studies series.

Acquiring our publications

For individual readers

Our print books may be ordered from all good retailers, who source our books from Lightning Source (North America and Australia) or Central Books (rest of the world, including UK). Our e-books may be purchased from numerous retailers, including: blackwell.co.uk; fishpond.co.nz; and www.kalahari.com.

For libraries

Our e-book suppliers include: Askews; Dawsonera; Ebook Library; Ebrary; Ebsco; and MyiLibrary. In North America and Australia our print books may be sourced, via retailers or suppliers, from Lightning Source. Those elsewhere may source them from our distributor, Central Books.

Library recommendations

Please use this form to recommend acquisition by your library.

To: Collection librarian for Creative Writing

From: .....

Affiliation/job title: .....

Contact details: .....

.....

I wish to recommend for acquisition the following titles in the Creative Writing Studies series:

Please tick all that apply

- ☐ S. Norris (ed.), Studying creative writing
- ☐ P. Gross, Caves of making
- ☐ E. Walker (ed.), Teaching creative writing
- ☐ A. Chatterjee (ed.), Creative writing
- ☐ S. Vanderslice, Rethinking creative writing

Reason for recommendation:

- ☐ Affiliation: I am involved with this series
- ☐ Collection development: acquisition will benefit faculty/student needs
- ☐ To support scholarship/research
- ☐ To support or be used on a course
- ☐ Other Please specify

<http://pandhp.com>