WELCOME

are you ready?

Are you ready for a one-of-a-kind opportunity that will give you the hands-on skills, strategy and network to help pass Canada's first pro-life law? Do you want to gain firsthand campaign skills, spend a week in Washington, D.C. with passionate students being trained by America's best political training organization, The Leadership Institute, and then return to put your new skills to the test in a mini campaign competition with the other interns? Do you want to meet elected officials and potential candidates as well as gain the skills and network for your future political volunteer and career aspirations? Are you hungry to learn, a good people-person, and ready to have a summer like no other?

If so, then maybe you are one of the four students we want to train and invest in this summer.
