Become a SEACC

Business Partner Today!

Join the Southeast Alaska Conservation Council (SEACC) as a business partner and show that you care about Southeast's ancient forests, clean water, and abundant salmon.

SEACC is a grassroots nonprofit organization that works to protect the Tongass National Forest and our Inside Passage waters. We work in communities throughout Southeast Alaska. Our biannual Ravencall Newsletter and annual Tidebook are filled with compelling photos and stories from throughout Southeast. They are available throughout Southeast and are an excellent marketing opportunity for your business.

For a small but mighty regional nonprofit like SEACC, your support makes a big difference in the work we do. Become a partner in this work and help us protect our Southeast way of life. There are many ways that your business can partner with SEACC, and we will work to find the one that fits your needs best.

Partnership Levels:

The benefits of each level of partnership build upon the one below it.

- $100 - Business name and logo on our website and receive copies of Ravencall and Tidebook.
- $250 - Business name in our biannual Ravencall newsletter and a free SEACC T-Shirt.
- $500 - 1 ½ * 3-inch ad in the Tidebook.
- $1,000 - Your logo in the Ravencall and a 20% discount on all SEACC merchandise for you and your employees.
- $2,500 - Promotion twice a year on social media and 3-inch square ad in the Tidebook.
- $5,000 - Prominent placement of your logo on the cover of the Tidebook.

Other ways to show your support:

- Matching in-store donations from your customers.
- Providing a donation jar at the cash register.
- Donating a portion of the proceeds from specific items or tour packages that you offer.

Past Business Partner Examples:

Sockeye Cycle, Skagway, AK

A matching funds program for donations made during their bike tours.

Glacier Bay Kayaks, Gustavus, AK

A portion of proceeds from kayak trips were donated to SEACC.
