A Musical Movement

Beautiful, meaningful music that can change hearts and minds.

Tyler’s Suite is a new and lauded nine-piece choral movement dedicated to the memory of Tyler Clementi, a talented young musician who died by suicide after being bullied by his roommate during his first weeks of college.

Available as TTBB or SATB, the Suite highlights the talents of nine contemporary composers—John Buchino, Ann Hampton Callaway, Craig Carnelia, John Corigliano, Stephen Flaherty, Nolan Gasser, Jake Heggie, Lance Home, and Stephen Schwartz—who, with librettists Pamela Stewart and Mark Adamo, put to music the voices and experiences of Tyler and his family.

Beautiful and thought-provoking, Tyler’s Suite is a powerful way to merge advocacy and the arts. By melding music with social change, you and your chorus members can help inspire thousands of individuals to promote a safe, inclusive and respectful social environment in schools, work places, and faith communities alike.

No one should be the victim of humiliation or harassment, which is the message of Tyler’s Suite. To help spread this message of acceptance and inclusion, why not partner with one of America’s premier anti-bullying organizations today to help create a lasting culture of kindness?

Listen to Tyler’s Suite Today: To hear a portion of each movement as premiered by the San Francisco Gay Men’s Chorus, please visit iTunes and search for “Tyler’s Suite.”
We invite you to partner with the mission of The Tyler Clementi Foundation as an Upstander as outlined below to unlock discount pricing as listed under the Upstander rate.

- Support our Pledge program to turn bystanders into Upstanders
- Make an ask from the stage to raise money for our work
- Engage chorus members to promote your performance and our work on Facebook, Twitter, etc.
- Create press opportunities in your city/state
- Host a gathering with your major donors to introduce them to our work to prevent bullying before it begins

Licensing

Licensing fees are offered on a sliding scale based on the annual operating budget of your chorus and are negotiable. The one-time fee licenses your chorus to perform Tyler’s Suite once (or twice, if performed on the same day). Pricing decreases when your chorus partners as an Upstander*, combining the power of Tyler’s Suite with the bullying prevention work of the Tyler Clementi Foundation.

"The story of Tyler Clementi, the story of the loss of one young man who clearly had so much to offer the world and those who loved and would come to love him, reminds us that every life lost because of bullying and bigotry is a specific individual tragedy. This is why I, and this group of gifted collaborators who have joined me, feel privileged to bring our time, energy and talents to the creation of Tyler's Suite."

— Stephen Schwartz

About Tyler Clementi

Tyler Clementi was a smart, talented and creative young man. An accomplished violinist, Tyler was excited to learn, grow and have the freedom to live openly as a gay man as a freshman at Rutgers University. There, however, he became a victim of cyberbullying when his roommate used a web-cam to view Tyler in an intimate act, and invited others to view this online. Upon discovering that he was an online topic of ridicule in his new social environment, Tyler ended his life several days later by jumping off the George Washington Bridge. Tyler was eighteen years old.

About The Tyler Clementi Foundation

The Tyler Clementi Foundation works to end online and offline bullying in schools, workplaces and faith communities. Guided by the life and story of Tyler Clementi, the Tyler Clementi Foundation was born out of the urgent need to address the needs of vulnerable populations, especially LGBT and other victims of hostile social environments. The Tyler Clementi Foundation is a 501(c)(3) organization. Learn more at tylerclementi.org
