

A Prayer for Healing

May the Source of Healing in our lives and our world bring healing these people who are now living with illness, infirmity and injury:

We send out our deepest hopes and prayers that they be granted a Refuah Sheleymah - a healing of body and spirit. May they know comfort and support from their friends and loved ones and may these connections sustain them through all pain and suffering, fear and uncertainty.

May those who are healers, those who care and minister to the sick, those who seek cures, find strength and support. Let us all work to create a society and a world that communally cares for the medical needs of all our citizens.

May all of us, together, know healing and hope.

And let us say,

Amen
