To whom it may concern,

The World Health Organization (WHO) would like to thank the Union of Medical Relief and Care Organizations, hereby abbreviated as (UOSSM), for the successful implementation of projects in the Syria Crisis Mission, which included to the date the following projects:

- Emergency Evacuation and Ambulatory System in Aleppo and its suburb (a project with extension)
- Distribution of medical kits including medications and consumables
- The immunization projects for Idlib, and eastern Syrian governorates

The WHO would like to highly thank UOSSM for the demonstrated dedication, close follow up, and focus on achieving impact by the delivered health service at beneficiaries, and maintaining the professional performance with WHO that paved the way for collaborative relationship between both parties.

UOSSM is a major medical NGOs working in the Syrian crisis and has been there since 2012. UOSSM is active component in coordination initiative that aimed to provide the maximum efficiency including UN Agencies or other NGOs and partners.

WHO would encourage UOSSM to continue on the same level of dedication and professionalism, and wish the best and safety for the staff in their mission.
