

Constitution of the Vancouver Tenants Union

Name

1.1 The name of the organization shall be the Vancouver Tenants Union (the “VTU”).

Purpose and Objectives

2.1 The Vancouver Tenants Union is made up of individuals and groups committed to building a transformative movement for housing justice and housing rights for all people: people who do not own property, people who rent, people who do not have stable housing, people who are homeless.

These are the people who we are working for and centering in our organization. We believe everyone, regardless of race, economic status, gender, age, ability, sexual orientation, religion, lifestyle or citizenship status deserve safe, affordable housing and homes.

We acknowledge that we are organizing, living, and resisting on unceded Coast Salish territories, specifically of the Musqueam, Squamish and Tsleil-Waututh nations. We recognize that displacement and gentrification are part of the larger colonial and capitalist systems that occupy these lands. Fighting for tenants’ rights is a fight for housing justice for all. No more displacement on stolen Native land.

Our core values for the Vancouver Tenants Union define us and all actions we take, policy change we pursue, and revolution we create together. By joining the Vancouver Tenants Union, you stand for these values, and acknowledge your responsibility to work towards these values and hold each other accountable:

- Housing is a human right. Everyone deserves to live with dignity in a safe, secure, clean, affordable and accessible home. We reject the speculative market. We reject that housing can or should be seen as a ‘commodity’ or an avenue to make money.

- Decommodify land. We reject corporate ownership and support initiatives like cooperative housing, land trusts and other alternatives to private ownership.
- We oppose displacement in the forms of violent gentrification, renovictions, rent increases, illegal evictions, and the tearing down of tent cities. We believe that no one should be forced to live apart from the networks, institutions, communities and culture they rely on to survive and thrive.
- Decolonization is the end we are constantly working towards. As a mixed group of settlers and Indigenous peoples, we commit to examining our values, tactics and strategies to align with moves towards real, deep decolonizing work.
- Livable City, Living Wages. We support raising the welfare, pension and disability rates to a level where people can comfortably afford to live and house themselves in their community. We support higher minimum wages, and the campaign for living wages.
- Solidarity in motion. We are in solidarity with tenants in other municipalities, provinces and communities experiencing housing crises, and support the founding of other tenants unions and resistance groups.
- Solidarity across movements. We know that our work is not in isolation of the systems of oppression that make necessary all social movements. We work and move in solidarity with other movements fighting for a more just society. We recognize that fighting for the most marginalized lifts everyone up, and we work to centre these voices and experiences at the core of our organizing.

In joining the Vancouver Tenants Union, you will help us build this movement together. We are only as strong as our members are, and we need all hands on deck to move us towards our goals:

- 1) Oppose gentrification and building of condos in low-income neighbourhoods like the Downtown Eastside and Chinatown, and resist the developer tide flooding our city.
- 2) Change policy at all levels of government (where possible, and also where seemingly impossible) to benefit tenants. This includes but is not limited to: stronger eviction protections, rent control, anti-discrimination legislation, and other initiatives set out by our Policy Working Group.
- 3) Create a force of renters and tenants with thousands of dues-paying members, across all barriers and identities.
- 4) Empower tenants to organize and fight injustices to protect themselves from the threats, intimidation, and bribes that lead to the loss of their homes. Encourage people to fight and inform themselves wherever possible.
- 5) Connect and share resources and strategies with other organizations and groups who share common values and goals across borders. We are not reinventing the wheel, but sparking the wheels to turn across communities.
- 6) Work to shift consciousness and public opinion on the challenges of living in this city: around tenancy stories, tenancy law, discrimination, gentrification, income assistance, accessibility, and affordability.
