

May 4, 2018

WI 7th Congressional District Margaret Engebretson endorsed by Demand Universal Healthcare organization

Balsam Lake, WI – Wisconsin's 7th Congressional District candidate Margaret Engebretson has been endorsed for U.S. Congress by Demand Universal Healthcare (DUH), a national advocacy group supporting development of a universal healthcare system.

Engebretson is a candidate for the Democratic nomination to be decided in the August 14 primary election.

"DUH is proud and excited to endorse Margaret Engebretson for Congress in the 7th District. Her distinguished military career has instilled in her the honor, commitment and, in her years as a union railroad worker, as well as in her legal career, the work ethic we so desperately need in Congress," said DUH Executive Director Sue Saltmarsh.

The mission of Demand Universal Healthcare (DUH) is to advance the cause of establishing a truly universal, comprehensive, and equitable National Improved Medicare for All (NIMA) healthcare system in the United States.

Following is a link to the organization's 2018 U.S. House and Senate endorsements:

<http://duh4all.org/2018-candidates/ushouseandsenatecandidates.html>

Engebretson is the only woman, veteran, and former union worker who has announced candidacy the 7th CD Democratic nomination.

She was born in St. Paul, MN, and served three years on active duty in the U.S. Navy followed by 21 years in the Naval Reserve and Minnesota Air National Guard. She worked as a union locomotive electrician and train dispatcher for the BNSF Railroad.

Engebretson graduated from the University of Wisconsin-Superior and later the University of Wisconsin Law School, after which she focused her time on Guardian ad Litem work in Balsam Lake, WI.

More information at www.vetfordemocracy.com

Media contact:

Greg Leaf
greg@groupleaf.com
651-271-2511