

ALL WOMEN SHOULD HAVE ACCESS TO ADEQUATE SANITATION AT WORK.

PERIOD.

But in 2016, women in some workplaces are still campaigning for womens toilets to be installed. In many call centres, toilet breaks are timed and women ridiculed for “lost productivity” due to having their periods.

THE PRICE YOU PAY, EACH WEEK, FOR BEING A WOMAN.

Australian women are penalised an average of $298 per week by pay inequality. Occupations dominated by women tend to be amongst the lowest paid, and women are disproportionately impacted by cuts to the minimum wage and conditions like penalty rates. Funny that.

YOUR PERSONAL CHOICES ARE YOUR PROBLEM.

Having babies and caring for families is something human beings do. If a company employs human beings, makes profit from human beings, or provides goods or services to human beings, then human beings are something they should support.

Time to care for a baby, facilities for breast-feeding mothers returning to work, and good carers policy are all part of a supportive workplace. Because the people who work for your company aren't just workers - they're people.

WHY CAN'T YOU JUST TAKE IT AS A COMPLIMENT?

Because everyday sex harassment and discrimination is something no-one should put up with. Women have a right to go about work without unwanted sexual advances.

ASK ME ABOUT MY FEMINIST AGENDA

I DIDN'T THINK YOU WERE "POLITICAL"

"Feminism is the radical notion that women are people". Are demands for equality, safety, and justice a political act?

“BOSSY”

“LEADERSHIP MATERIAL”

The same behaviours that get men praised get women fired.

How do we address sexist attitudes in our workplaces, permanently?
