BECAUSE THEY DON'T RELY ON PENALTY RATES TO BUY FOOD OR PAY RENT.

Malcolm Turnbull and local Liberal MP Michael Sukkar want to see 700,000 people who work Sundays and public holidays have their wages slashed from 1 July. Liberals have wanted these cuts for years because they just don't understand how vital penalty rates are.

Malcolm Turnbull and Michael Sukkar could protect penalty rates and stop hurting family budgets at any time, but they're just not interested. Right now, Australians need a pay rise – not a pay cut.
