

King Street Service Changes During Toronto International Film Festival September 10-13, 2015

King Street West will be closed between Peter Street and University Avenue from Thursday, September 10 to Sunday, September 13, 2015 as Toronto celebrates the 40th Annual Toronto International Film Festival.

This road closure requires several changes to the TTC 504 King streetcar and bus service.

504 King streetcar will be split into east and west sections. There will be no streetcar service between York Street and Bathurst Street.

- East section: from Broadview Station, streetcars will travel west on King Street, south on Church Street, west on Wellington Street, north on York Street and east on King Street returning to Broadview Station.
- West section: from Dundas West Station, streetcars will travel east on King Street, north on Bathurst Street to Bathurst Station returning to Dundas West Station via south on Bathurst Street and west on King Street.

504 King buses will be available to bridge service between York Street and Bathurst Street and will travel as follows:

- Westbound: originating from King Street at Parliament Street, buses will travel west on King Street, north on University Avenue, west on Richmond Street West, south on Spadina Avenue, west on King Street and south on Dufferin Street to Dufferin Gates Loop.
- Eastbound: originating from Dufferin Gates Loop, buses will travel north on Dufferin Street, east on King Street, north on Spadina Avenue, east on Adelaide Street West, south on University Avenue and east on King Street to Parliament Street.

304 King Streetcar Night Service will divert as follows:

- Westbound: from King Street, north on York Street, west on Queen Street, south on Spadina Avenue, west on King Street to regular route.
- Eastbound: from King Street to Spadina Avenue, north on Spadina Avenue, east on Queen Street, south on Church Street to King Street, east on King Street to regular route.
