HIV Health Disparities: Targeting Syndemics to End AIDS

January 19, 2018

UCLA Covel Commons | 200 De Neve Dr

We're hosting a free one-day conference to support the next generation of HIV researchers and service providers who are working towards an end to AIDS through networking and sharing visions for future priorities. We will feature oral and poster presentations by students and emerging researchers from various institutions and the event is open to anyone working on HIV prevention and treatment, including those from CBOs/ASOs, HIV clinics, public health departments, and academic institutions.

Deadline to register: January 5, 2018
