

FORSYTH STREET SEEKS SENIOR ASSOCIATE FOR LOAN FUND/ASSET MANAGEMENT TEAM

Forsyth Street is seeking a motivated self-starter to become an integral member of the firm's Loan Fund & Asset Management division. Through this division, Forsyth has become an industry leader in creating social impact investment funds for municipal, philanthropic, and investor clients. These have provided capital for preservation and production of affordable housing in major U.S. cities, renewable energy investments, and energy retrofits in residential and commercial properties. Based on client needs, Forsyth assesses market need, develops the fund structure, raises capital, and is frequently retained to manage daily fund operations.

Primary responsibilities for the position will include review of loan requests; preparation of credit proposals; loan servicing and portfolio management; and staff support for capital raises, investor reporting, and loan product development. Duties will likely cross over several funds.

Minimum requirements:

- Minimum of 5 years of professional experience, with at least 3 years of related job experience in a lending capacity, primarily in the affordable housing or community development sector.
- Excellent quantitative, spreadsheet, and financial analytical skills.
- Strong writing and digital presentation skills.
- Strong communication skills in a highly interactive team setting, with a broad range of public, private, and non-profit sector clients.
- Strong problem-solving abilities, attention to detail, and project management skills.

Highly-qualified candidates will have:

- Knowledge of Federal, New York State and New York City and California affordable housing programs.
- Graduate degree in related field.

Salary is commensurate with experience. Competitive benefits including health insurance.

Interested applicants should forward a resume and cover letter to: info2@forsythstreet.com
