Amendment Title: Removing Random Appointments to Local Councils

Amended Motion text:

In order to build a solid foundation and pave the way for a truly gender equal society, WE need dramatic change in how we think about and plan our economy and how the political system that it operates within is organised.

Specific changes WE are calling on all UK governments, at national and local level, to enact are:

- Stop using GDP as the primary measure of economic success or progress, instead measuring the wellbeing of citizens and the environment.

- Use the ‘doughnut model’ of economics to assess every budget and initiative at all levels of UK government, from Westminster through to Parish Councils.

- Respect and encourage engagement in local and national politics by convening citizens’ assemblies to scrutinise spending decisions and major policy strategies.

- Include 5% Local Authority members chosen at random from the electorate for a term that allows a large range of people to participate effectively.
