YaleWomen Award for Excellence
Working Toward Gender Equity
March 7, 2019
National Press Club, Washington, DC

The YaleWomen Award for Excellence offers a distinctive and compelling opportunity to recognize individual(s) who have been advocates for justice, equality, and access for women in many different ways and walks of life.

The Lifetime Achievement Award acknowledges the work of award recipients in advancing and giving voice to women's issues. Bestowal serves to emphasize the extraordinary importance of such efforts and allows recipients to stand as aspirational models for others. We are both thrilled and humbled to honor three recipients to share in the award: Anita Hill '80 JD (Professor, Brandeis University); Catherine Lhamon '96 JD (Chair, US Commission on Civil Rights); and Ann Olivarius '77, '86 JD, '86 MBA (Chair, McAllister Olivarius). The panel discussion among these awardees will be moderated by Joanne Lipman '83, author of That's What She Said: What Men Need to Know (and Women Need to Tell Them) About Working Together.

This year, we will bestow our inaugural Impact Award to five alums who have made an impact on women's lives: Araceli Campos '99; C'Ardiss Gardner Gleser '08; Kamala Lopez; Rebecca Reichmann Tavares '78; and Vera Wells '71.

Help us to honor these remarkable women and amplify more women's voices to transform the world by becoming a sponsor today! We invite you to be part of this story as we share it with YaleWomen and beyond.
