We all want and deserve to live in safe, healthy communities. Complete streets policies make communities and neighborhoods more livable by ensuring all people can get safely to where they need to go – work, school, the library, grocery stores, or parks. They also help people feel more connected to their neighbors, which improves quality of life.

When children can walk to school, parks, and playgrounds, they are more likely to be healthy and do better in school.

- 76% agree that a Complete Streets policy will make communities more livable and attractive.
- 73% say it will help connect currently isolated communities with one another and the main city through sidewalks, bike lanes, multi-use paths and better access to public transportation.
- 71% of voters believe it will give low income residents more affordable transportation options.

Ohio residents want safer streets and roadways!

Key findings from a statewide telephone survey of 600 registered voters in Ohio, including 240 cell phone respondents. December 2016.